BIONTOLOGY

© 2011 By Dr. Johan Boswinkel, Netherlands

The word Biontology is taken by combining Bio and Ontology. Bio means life and Ontology is the study of the ultimate reality of nature. The ultimate reality of nature is LIGHT and without light there can be no life.

Why?

The instrument Chiren and the courses have been developed to restore the human being in its original glory, independent of medical doctors and independent of the pharmaceutical industry, whereby the body can do everything itself again.

70-85% of medical diagnosis are misdiagnosis, which means that the basis of medical knowledge must be wrong. The basis is still relying on the situation as it was hundreds of years ago. Time has progressed, but medical science has not. So a long time ago I decided that it was time to approach the human body from a physics point of view, instead of from a chemical point. In the mean time tens of thousands of people have been cured from their chronic conditions, people that could not get help from the orthodox medicine or from the alternative medicine. It was possible because biontology finds and treats causes instead of symptoms.

In Biontology the human being gets its central place back and will be seen and treated as one complete being and not as a series of individual organs and emotions. Everything is connected and influences each other.

Humans are light beings

Every cell emits more than 100 000 light impulses per second. These light impulses are called biophotons. Every biophoton is an information package that precedes a biochemical reaction. Without a biophoton signal there is no chemical reaction in the body or in any other living substance.

If there is anything wrong in the biochemistry in the body, then there must be something wrong in the biophotons as steering system. This biochemical imbalance is impossible to correct without first correcting the steering signal. If you try to correct the chemical imbalance with other chemical substances, you only increase the chaotic circumstances and the stress in the body and nothing is cured but more disturbing signals are added. This might lead to sufficient stress in the body so that it starts producing lots of endorphins. Endorphins are the body's own morphine and symptoms will be suppressed, giving the appearance of healing. However, only a mask has been created under which the disease goes on and spreads.

More and more chronic diseases are developing. Most of the time a chronic disease develops when the body does not react. The body does not react because it does not recognize the problem or the reactions themselves are disabled. Although the body does not react the diseases, bacteria or viruses that are present in the body do send out their own light signal. This causes a hyperbole in the bio-photon measurements, because the signals from the invaders or diseases disturb the coherency of the own signal of the body. These signals can be detected and often identified by the Chiren instrument with the assistance of a well -trained operator. Subsequently these disturbing signals can be neutralized. Once these signals are taken out of the light spectrum, it returns to a coherent state and the system is again capable of sending out the correct signals to steer the biochemistry of the body.

Finding and treating causes

There are a few streams in the healing profession: the orthodox medical stream and the alternative stream. They do basically the same things but use different means. They both treat symptoms. The orthodox stream does this with synthetic and chemical remedies, the alternative stream does it with natural means. But both are treating symptoms only. Biontology is different and treats causes.

Using the invisible, but measurable, light signals of the body one can detect where a particular infection has come from. For example: appendicitis can lead to hepatitis or gastritis or a bladder infection. In this case you cannot successfully treat the bladder infection without treating the appendicitis. And again this appendicitis has a cause, which needs to be treated. Many of these things can be treated one session. But every disease has to be traced to its cause and the Biontologist will learn to do so. In the end the self-healing system of the body has been restored and the body will be able to heal anything itself again. The training of the immune system may have to start again. Symptoms can be similar but causes can be very different. Every being is unique and has to be treated in a unique way. Recipes do not exist. But if one can restore the body's own healing system, then the body will heal itself at a very high speed.

Humans are no other than sending and receiving stations. They always have resonance to signals that are emitted by their own system. That is why the Chiren is a biofeedback system whereby the quality of the light in the body is constantly improved. Contrary to virtually all other systems we do NOT want repeat business. We do NOT want patients to come back often. Once a person has come to the end of a series of treatments (normally 4 – 10) and the causes and symptoms have disappeared, the person should not be dependent anymore on us or anybody else for his or her health. Their bodies should be able to heal anything themselves.

Restoring the self-healing system

Everybody knows that the body has a self-healing system, what people call the immune system. Every single organ and their interrelationships are part of this immune system. For various reasons this system is paralyzed. The body does not react anymore and things become chronic. Any body that has a chronic condition has an auto-immune problem, whereby the body does not recognize the problem and therefore does not take action. The Biontology restores the immune system and the body will cooperate again. Once the cooperation is back, the body wants the same thing: to heal. The body has incredible capabilities. And can restore anything IF the instructions can still get through and there is no counter signal coming from inside the body.

Exclusions

There are a few people that are not easily treatable: in the first place there are the sterilized men; we assume that this is because the body receives opposite signals. It is producing sperm and also gets the instruction of producing anti-sperm. I think that these opposite instructions lock up the body and it does not react to the signals. We get also no reaction from the body when people take anti-acid remedies. The same thing happens in those cases: the body receives opposite instructions.

People who cannot receive any treatments are the people who have undergone organ transplants. Because the immune system is restored completely the body will reject the organ immediately. One also has to be careful with people who have foreign objects in their body. If they have metal or plastic parts, the body might reject them or encapsulate it very fast and one has to see how the body could react against it. Most of the reactions are well known to me and are taught in the courses.

The Chiren

The Biophoton device J. Boswinkel, the CHIREN that has been used in all researches.

The Chiren is an instrument that consists of two parts: One assessment system to see where and what the disturbances are and one part that corrects them. The assessment system has its base in the EAV (Electro-Acupuncture- according to Voll). It simple measures the galvanic resistance of the skin and what is being observed is: a straight line or a hyperbole. When it is a hyperbole, there is something wrong, with a straight line everything is in order. This is a QUANTATIVE measurement. But this indication corresponds fully to the biophoton measurements. Also when one measures biophoton emission one gets a straight line when there is maximum coherency and a hyperbole when the light is chaotic. Also the biophoton measurements are quantitative. This measurement is followed by a measurement of the QUALITY of the point. If the previous measurement showed a hyperbole, then another measurement has to follow in order to see WHAT is wrong. This measurement will determine on the basis of the quality of the chaotic signal that comes from the body what the disturbance is. The treatment section of the Chiren is then able to send back the opposite signal into the body, thereby neutralizing the disturbing signal.

The Chiren has an extensive library of numerous diseases and bacterial or viral infections to match the signal coming from the body.

The Chiren has several capabilities and special programs:

A few of the treatment possibilities:

1. standard programs for adults and children
2. program to treat whiplash and scars
3. program to treat electron- spin inversion
4. program to treat dyslexia
5. program to copy information
6. program to neutralize information

Furthermore the Chiren has the possibility to store all your assessments, treatments and remedies. You can also load your own remedies and also your special treatment programs that you might develop.

The Chiren is only a tool for you to apply the biontology, the main result comes from your assessment and knowing.

There is knowledge and knowing. All we teach you is our knowing, but will only be knowledge for you. By applying the knowledge, you can make it into knowing for you.

COURSES

The extensive possibilities of the Chiren and the knowledge behind them and behind the Biontology will be taught to you in a number of courses. Relationships between organs are explained in a totally new way, what influences the solar storms have on the health and how to counteract them, what the measuring points mean and the connection between them. All of that and a lot more is taught in the courses blocks. The basic Biontology course consists of 20 days.

The content of each course is explained on the next page.

The first course is the course where the Chiren is explained and this course is “live”, in other words one has to be physically present for this block. The other courses will be done by video conferencing system. So you can stay at home.

The courses will be done in cooperation with the Inter-University College in Graz, Austria. This education counts as two semesters for the Masters Degree Complementary and Integrated Medicine.

There is the possibility of following up the biontology courses with a Masters and Doctoral Degree. However, for this degree you need to attend the seminars in Graz twice per year. These seminars always last for 3 days.

Frequent courses are held in the following countries:

The Netherlands, Norway, Switzerland, Japan, Canada. We will be starting also in the USA. Please send an email to healthangelacademy@gmail.com to find out what the schedule is. Canada and Japan are following their own curriculum and do not cooperate with the Inter-University College.

Scientific acceptance

Biontology is based on the scientific phenomenon of the biophotons, which have been proven scientifically. Many universities are doing fundamental research into them. The application has only won scientific acceptance since 2008 when the Inter-University College in Graz, Austria decided to include it in their Masters Program. The results were so fantastic that we are now teaching the biophotons at the College and particular programs have been combined.

Also the agricultural University in Wageningen, the Netherlands is researching this biophoton therapy on animals and food crops.
